Call for Papers, 11th ECFN Meeting, 6–7 November 2024
Teylers Museum, Haarlem, Netherlands

The European Coin Find Network (ECFN) has been meeting annually since 2012 in order to present and discuss recent work on coin finds.

The 2024 meeting will be dedicated to two topics. Papers and posters are invited on the following subjects:

1. Coin finds and the public.
   - How do archaeologists and numismatists interact with the non-academic community in recording and presenting coin finds?
   - What are the challenges, and what experiences have particularly contributed to the success of finds recording schemes (PAN/PAS, local initiatives)?
   - Innovative ways of presenting coin finds, their context and significance to the general public.

2. Digital aspects of the recording and analysis of coin finds, including GIS and statistical analysis, databases, semantic web, visualisation, artificial intelligence and machine learning.

The meeting will consist of two full days, and we envisage papers consisting of 15 minutes presentation and 5 minutes discussion, as well as a poster session. We might also consider the possibility of panel discussions.

The conference language is English.

Please submit proposals for papers and posters (name, institution, title, abstract of 150-200 words) by email to: ecfn2024@fundmuenzen.org.

The closing date for the submission of proposals is 31st May 2024.
